If you prefer to tat and not sew, tatted strips should be 5" and not wider than 2.5" (13.5 x 6 cm.) Individual motifs must fit in a space that size on the strip.

Please mail all tatting and blocks by March 20, 2018.

These are sample treatments of the quilt known online as the "Chinese Coin." The several versions of the entire pattern is available for free online. It is a series of short strips of varying fabrics sewn together into columns and then into several rows across.

Let's strive for at least 5 columns which should make a twin size quilt. If we have more block decorated we can go for a queen size one.

Prefer to Shannon's block above. Our blocks will have three different strips sewn together. The tatting may be anything decorative. Shannon's example uses a bookmark pattern (available to us later.) Some of the strips will be plain, solid colors, solid colors with a faint background design, or bright and beautiful patterns. The tatter is encouraged to take their inspiration from the patterns, colors or their imagination. The strips may vary in decoration, i.e., they do not have to be the same design on each strip. The strips are horizontal.

Edging need not be centered on one block. Consider using the center strip as the base line and place two different edgings on each strip facing into the center or facing into the partner strips. The design may be individual motifs as well.

There are so many edging type patterns posted online. Check here:

And strips embellished with embroidery, beads, pearls, etc. are most welcome, too.
